Faculty Mentor Department:

Community Health and Family Medicine

Project Description:

The east Gainesville community is an underserved patient population which over-utilizes the ER for non-emergent pediatric care.

Through interventions in our clinic, our project seeks to reduce the number of ER visits amongst the pediatric patients who most frequently use the ER for non-emergent care.

The medical student, along with faculty mentors, will formulate interventions for our target population. They will be involved in pre- and post- intervention data collection and performing interventions, with the potential for manuscript production and publication.
